

A TRAGEDY

ICUT
PEOPLE
BURIED
TOGETHER

THE

*There is no peace
there is no
love
there's all just nothing but unrest nothing but sickness and suffering from collapsing with stress life is kinda crazy right now I like what somebody said this...this afternoon it's not
gonna get better
who's ready for a party?
nothing will
get better
this is a disaster
this party has went haywire I'm trying to stay optimistic everything's perfect
yeah
faith means just to believe, all you gotta do is just say I'm
on my way to hell*

they waste away

exit light

they don't come back guaranteed off to never never never never more patients die in other words and

they'll stay dead

you all ready to have some fun?

in

a shallow grave

laid to rest

one beside the next in a matter of minutes you could be covered with

dirt

nice

A dense forest of trees with glowing, colorful trunks and branches, creating a vibrant, ethereal atmosphere. The colors range from bright green and yellow to deep red and purple, set against a dark background. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

human body
self
body
is all connected
well
my memories
all connected
in my head
it's the ultimate status update you just tell it what to do and it listens*

*because the universe itself is
corpse
of
God*

“Believe me who for many a thousand year Has chewed this cud and never rested, That from the cradle to the bier
The ancient leaven cannot be digested.
Trust one like me, this whole array Is for a ~~God~~—there’s no contender:
He dwells in his eternal splendor,
To darkness we had to surrender,
And you need night as well as day.”

- Goethe’s Faust, The First Part of the Tragedy
